

Automation User's Guide

VoipNow Automation is deprecated and is no longer supported in 5.5.0 version and above.

About

VoipNow Automation is a business and operations automation solution built for service providers. Automation does not require licensing as it is shipped for free alongside VoipNow.

The product's clear and intuitive web based interface is meant to ease the users' experience, reducing the time required to navigate between the wide range of available options.

Please note that VoipNow Automation is intended for the system administrator users of a VoipNow system and therefore all the operations described in this manual are available only to them.
