Manage Account Templates

About Account Templates

The best way to easily configure similar customer accounts is through templates. Account templates are collections of predefined settings which allow you to create several accounts in a single operation. VoipNow comes with four types of account templates detailed in this area.

To see the templates in the interface, go to the side menu and click on Unified Communications. You will find them all grouped under the Account Templates area.

- Extension Templates
- Organization Templates
- Service Provider Templates
- User Templates
